break the barriers of the past!*

ABOUT US

Stuhr Museum is a unique historical and cultural museum located on 200+ acres in Grand Island, NE. Immersive, hands-on experiences provide visitors an opportunity to learn about days gone by in exciting ways.

The year 2020 not only presented new challenges but also highlighted barriers that have long existed. Barriers such as connecting to young audiences, educating students who are unable to attend classes in person, and reaching people of all ages who speak different languages. With a little help from modern technology, we have discovered ways to start breaking down these barriers.

MEET SCOUT

To fight the monotony of virtual content for young kids, we decided to use a tool that's been around for thousands of years - a puppet! We created Scout, our high-energy, curious, fuzzy Youth Ambassador. The video series, Scout's Adventures at the Stuhr Museum, takes viewers across the museum with Scout to ask questions, meet new friends, and see how cool history is! Learn with Scout on our Stuhr Kids Facebook page and YouTube channel.

VIRTUAL CLASSES

Stuhr Museum offers a variety of in-person classes for elementary-aged children, and now eight of those classes are also available in a virtual format. Our virtual classes are dynamic, immersive, and unique, and have been utilized by schools across Nebraska and even as far away as New Hampshire!

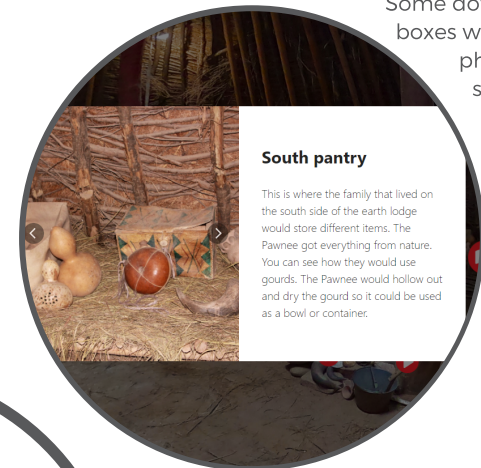

Each dot unlocks information and many classes include stunning, immersive 360° images, too!

Virtual classes feature:

- video lessons with our instructors teaching the class as if the students were with them in person
- photos of the class site, including various artifacts and replica items
- text boxes that can be read aloud to students or translated to 83 languages with the use of the built-in Microsoft Immersive Reader.
- a 15-30 minute Zoom session with an instructor of the class to ask follow-up questions.
- approximately 10-15 pages of lesson plans, worksheets, and standard correlation for teachers.

Some dots open engaging videos of our instructors demonstrating artifacts and replica items. The instructors ask various questions throughout the lesson that prompt the viewer to answer, building connections to the content.

Some dots open text boxes with close-up photos of the site or items. Photos can even be made larger for viewers to see more closely!

MULTI-LINGUAL HISTORY

All of the text in our classes can be translated and read out loud by the program. With this in mind, we can offer customized classes that specifically meet the needs of students of all ages who are learning English. Currently, all of the Central Community Colleges in Nebraska are using our classes with their literacy classes for English language learners. Ask us about customizing a class to fit your needs!
