Mysterious Death of an Emigrant.

Detroit, Mich., July 22. — James Cockburn came from Glasgow, Scotland, on the Anchor line steamer Furnesia, and reached Detroit six weeks ago. Sunday night he died very suddenly of what was really an aggravated case of cholera morbus, but which presented all the characteristic symptoms of Asiatic cholera. The remains turned completely black. Had cholera been epidemic here the doctors would have pronounced it a case of that dread disease, and the fact that Cockburn was a recent immigrant added to the fear. Health Officer Duffield insisted upon calling it a case of sporadic cholera and ordered a private funeral at night.

Fort Dodge, Ia., July 24.—Rev. R. Tirrel, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church at Clarion, occupied a seat in the judge's stand and officiated as timekeeper in a race between two local trotters. When the preacher announced the result and time, one of the spectators, questioned his decision. Rev. Mutual friends prevented the affair from going further, but the occurrence has created much comment.

The captain, engineer and fireman of the Chicago were taken from the water by sailors of the Concord. The two men drowned were asleep in the cabin and probably caught in the wreck and held below. The night was perfectly clear and the crews of both tug and the propeller claim their lights were burning. Each captain blames the other for the disaster.

sawing through the bars of the steel cage and breaking out the panel of the outer door. There has been a standing reward of $50 offered for him since his escape. He had been previously heard of in Oklahoma, but before the requisition papers could be secured he moved out of the territory.

Omaha, July 25—The coroner's jury investigating the death of Ida Ebright, who was found dead in the office of Dr. Noah Carriker, Saturday afternoon, returned a verdict that the girl's death was caused by an electric shock administered to her with criminal intent. Out of 18 men found guilty of murder in the first degree in the last five years in this state, fifteen have been executed, one suicided, one died and Culyer Shultz still lives. His case would be the first one in which the supreme court would reverse the decision of the lower court.

Hon. I. H. Benton of Lincoln, state auditor, was in the city yesterday.

Stolley and the editor of the Democrat in their sayings came very near the anarchistic line. They do not believe in law unless they can declare the law themselves. "They are the people." Witness the following from the last issue of the Democrat: "The Carnegie outfit are arresting the leaders of the locked out workmen for murder. This is done to intimidate them and throw the organization into confusion. If the working men submit to it without sending every Carnegie to hell they are not worthy the name of American citizens or the sympathy of the American people."

Where is that rain man? They are looking for him. S. N. Wolbach, we understand, has offered to subscribe $100, and several farmers have expressed their willingness to contribute. A gentleman from Cairo called at this office this morning and stated that the farmers of that vicinity were after him but could not find him. At Nelson he made a successful attempt and charged only $400 for a good rain.

As long as some people use water during the hours not included in the rules, those who are in the habit of overeying them will be gloriously left. It is manifestly an unjust state of affairs and the matter should be righted.

The Nebraska State Veteran reunion for 1892 will be held at Grand Island Aug. 29 to Sept. 3, inclusive.

In the county books examination matter there has been some talk by a few of "a demand by the people for an examination" as it may not be known by all how this "demand by the people" came about it may not be out of place to state the fact the demand and suspicion created by Stolley himself, who went to the Democrat office had petitions printed and secretly sent out to the alliances and then when his nefarious secret scheme had worked to some extent he put up the hypocritical pretense that it was a spontaneous uprising by the people, when it was only the creation of suspicion by Stolley himself.

D. P. Ashburne of Gibbon, Superintendent of the Dairy Exhibit from Nebraska at the World's Fair was in the city today. Mr. Ashburn reports active interest in the exhibit by the Nebraska dairymen, and he also reports crops in splendid condition in Buffalo county, which he feels confident will be the banner agricultural county in the state this year.

P.O. Hedland of Holdrege, Nebraska, candidate for nomination as state auditor on the republican ticket was in the city today casting an eye windward. He appears to be a very nice gentleman and was of course very favorably impressed with our city, it being his first visit.

Owing to the Aurora club having failed to keep an engagement made with High school nine, these clubs did not come together yesterday, as was announced in Monday's issue, but played at the ball park today. The high school boys would like to hear from any nine in this city, wither by a published challenge or a communication addressed to Frank Hetzel, Mgr.

The roof is now being put on the new depot.

Sam Graham of Cameron township, threshed his fall wheat recently and it averaged thirty-two bushels to the acre machine measure, and would in all probability weigh out about thirty-five bushels. Who can beat this record.

Not even the spirit of the base ball corpse that was buried here a few weeks ago seems to remain. While the team of Aurora can furnish 300 enthusiasts to aid their team, financially and by their presence, the city of Grand Island extends an ovation to the "star" nine in the shape of thirty straggling spectators. Cranks seem to have become metamorphosed into silence deep and sound. We may say that the players composing our representatives nine are only boys, but as such they furnish a splendid and interesting sample of good, clean ball and are deserving of at least our patronage.

Women

The common afflictions of women are sick-headaches, indigestion and nervous troubles. They arise largely from stomach disorders. As Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla is the only bowel regulating preparation, you can see why it is more effective than any other Sarsaparilla in those troubles. It is daily relieving hundreds. The action is mild, direct and effective. We have scores of letters from grateful women.
